Interest Increases In C. Of C. Activities Urge Town Action

Newmarket—Increasing interest and enthusiasm in the work of the Chamber of Commerce was shown at the first banquet of the year held at the King George Hotel on Monday night. Thirty people attended. President Delbert Gibney outlined some of the efforts the organization has put forth toward the community including assistance to the Horticultural Society clean-up week publicity, erection of the artificial ice fund thermometer and the vote publicity.

John O. Dales introduced a motion to set up a committee to draft a resolution about the closing of businesses on Wednesday afternoon for each class of stores. There is already a by-law governing closing hours but it was considered outdated for the present classes of business.

Reports from each committee were heard and discussions led to several recommendations including a motion put forth by the safety committee chairman, Cecil Taylor, "that something be done about jay walking in Newmarket". Mr. Taylor claimed that it is a big hazard on Main St. and that the young people are not the only offenders. "Toronto has a by-law for jay walkers and it is time that Newmarket had one," he said.

There was a suggestion that bicycles be licensed and a resolution by Mrs. Rank and J. O. Dales that the town put a police officer on Saturday mornings to keep the children from running into the paths of cars and keep them from also that waste paper receptacles be placed at the corner of Main and Water Sts., was passed.

The chamber of commerce has been on a drive of raising money rather than membership fees and discussion centered around possibilities of raising money either by more members or some sponsored event. The fall fair came into discussion and it was pointed out that there are already too many carnivals and that it would be better to pool all into one fair. The meeting decided to seek information from other towns of the same population as to the methods other chambers raise money.

At present the chamber membership is 49. Mr. Gibney said that the chamber's policy would be to assist town organizations and the town council in advice and support in any municipal function where it could help.

Legion Celebrates Third Birthday

Newmarket—There have been no birthday parties as gay as the celebrations held in the Legion Hall Tuesday night on the occasion of the third anniversary of the local branch, 426, of the Canadian Legion. Guest speakers were Mayor Jos. Vale, T. A. M. Hulce, Aurora, third vice president of the Ontario provincial command, and Major Lex Mackenzie. Other honored guests were Chester Best, Lions club president, zone commander B. Bryant and members of the town council.

A large birthday cake was wheeled into the assembly room with three burning candles and K. M. R. Stiver and Hunt Taylor, past presidents, went through the ancient cake cutting ritual.

President T. L. Ewing said "We are not a service club in the same sense as the others in town, not to the veterans, their families, war widows, orphans and pensioners." Mr. Ewing said that the Legion carnival is the only money raising event of the year and urged all members to tell the public of the opportunities when they can contribute. There are 242 paid up members, he said and the Legion has done $1,200 in welfare work in the town.

Mr. Hulce said that there are 450 active branches in Ontario, 1,200 in the Dominion, 60,000 Ontario members to be increased to 100,000 and 350,000 paid up members in the Dominion.

Commenting on the D.P. work of the Kitchener Legion and the increasing number of new Canadians, he said "We hope to see the day that the word 'foreigner' is taken from the dictionary."

The mayor told the gathering about some of the things the town council has done for veterans. "We took the long range view to help veterans," he said. "We brought Sangamo and Hoffman's to town for employment."

As for housing, he cited the V.L.A. subdivision, the Bowser subdivision in the camp and the Central Mortgage and Housing corporation project on Eagle St. as examples of what the town efforts have provided.

Major Mackenzie recalled some of the meetings with veterans he has had since the first world war and the comradeship he found with them. "No veteran ever needs to feel alone when such comradeship exists," he said. Major Mackenzie and the mayor both congratulated the Legion on its third birthday.

Delegates attended the birthday celebrations from Aurora, Mount Albert and Woodbridge.

Memorial Honors Pickering War Dead

Newmarket—"The function of education today is to educate free contributive persons, liberated from ignorance and prejudice, from bigotry and intolerance," said Jos. McCulley at a memorial chapel service at Pickering College Sunday night, conducted by the Old Boys' Association.

The service, which was attended by staff, students and old boys, saw the unveiling of a temporary memorial plaque on which were names of 44 Old Boys killed during the last war. Graduates who served during the war numbered 459. The honor roll was unveiled by Headmaster R. E. K. Rourke.

Mr. McCulley, former headmaster of Pickering and now deputy commissioner of Canadian penitentiaries in connection with penal education, told the audience "We must educate persons who are good Canadians but with a consciousness of world mindedness and world citizenship. This is the only memorial which will justify the sacrifice of our young men in a world war."

"Unfortunately we are living in a period of uneasy peace," he said, "when it seems as though preponderant force is a necessary insurance policy for a free world. But our responsibility is to do everything in our power to head the disunity that unhappily exists."

In the future, the honor roll will be substituted for by a permanent memorial shrine to be placed in one of the proposed new buildings. At present there is a campaign sponsored by the Old Boys' Association to raise funds for new buildings and already a memorial track and playing field which has been donated by an old boy, is nearing completion.

Christian-Baptist Church Recognized

Newmarket—On Thursday, May 20, the council of the Toronto Association of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec convened in the Newmarket Christian Baptist church (formerly the Congregational Christian church) to proceed with a service of recognition. The Association was represented by a council of over 100 representatives and met with a congregation which filled the church to capacity.

Rev. Robert Hamilton, College Street Baptist church, Toronto, and Moderator of the Toronto Baptist Association, was chairman of the meeting. A brief period of devotional exercises was observed, leading into the consideration by the council to welcome the Newmarket Christian Baptist church into the fellowship of the Toronto Association. The clerk was called upon to read the instruction of a motion passed by the members of the church at a congregational meeting on April 20, 1919, as follows:

"That the Newmarket Congregational Christian church be plans to qualify for the right hand of fellowship into the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec."

A further motion passed at this meeting reads: "That this body, now recognized as the Newmarket Congregational Christian church, hereby declares itself to be known hereafter as the Newmarket Christian Baptist church."

The Moderator called upon the acting minister, Rev. F. R. Brecken, to present the statement of the church, its policies, doctrines and outlook. Particular reference was made to the term "Christian" in the new name of the church. This remains as a tribute to the work and inspiration of those of the Christian church denomination throughout the 127 years of active laboring.

All members in good standing of the former body are recognized as members in good standing of the Christian Baptist

Help Save Water Citizens Urged As Demand Rises

Newmarket—A request to townspeople to help conserve water has been issued by the water committee although there is no cause for panic about a water shortage.

"During the past year we have been trying to find new wells to increase our water supply," a report from the water committee states. "The need for these wells is due to an increased domestic, commercial and industrial expansion in Newmarket."

"We ask you to co-operate with us to offset the possibility of a summer shortage by refraining from watering lawns and gardens except on Saturdays and Sundays. Another important conservation can be effected by reporting to us any signs of leaks on your service such as singing in the pipes or wet spots on lawns or in ditches."

"At the present time we can support our ordinary demands but extra consumption will mean extra pumping and additional strain on the existing wells. Your co-operation and assistance will be greatly appreciated."

Expect Many Exhibits At Aurora Horse Show

Aurora—On Saturday, June 11, the Aurora Horse Show will be staged in the town park. On the grounds there will be three separate rings and a midway. The first ring will witness the judging of the riding and jumping classes while ring two will be set aside for the roadsters, hackneys and carriage horses. The draft horses will be in the third ring. A wide range of exhibits is expected.

Competing in the jumping classes will be the Canadian Equestrian Team. This will be its first appearance in the Aurora Horse Show. The day's program, which is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m., is sponsored by the Aurora Agricultural Society under president Alex. McLennan.

Half Yearly Meeting Held at Historic Site

The Half Yearly Meeting of Conservative Friends, which convened last Saturday and Sunday in the Meeting House on Yonge St., was exceptionally well attended. Ninety signed the visitors' book and over 60 remained for lunch. Owing to illness, some familiar faces were missing but Friends were well represented from Norwich, Markham, Toronto, Maple, Aurora, Queensville, as well as from Newmarket and vicinity.

Reverent interest and appreciation were evident in the attitude of those present. Several spoke and in the quiet meditation it seemed that the "Bread of Life" was shared with each. This annual Meeting of Friends in the original House of Worship is historic and appears to be increasingly supplying a communion that is gratefully accepted in these hectic days.

Music Festival Huge Success

Newmarket—The artificial ice fund campaign was swelled by a substantial contribution on Friday night when the children of the Newmarket public schools held their spring musical festival in the Memorial Arena. Sponsored by the Recreation Commission and approved by the public school board, the chorus of 125 pupils of grades 7 and 8, the junior choruses and operettas were trained under the direction of Herman Fowler, Mus. Bae. Over 500 youngsters formed the cast for one of the best shows ever presented in this community.

To the teachers go the well deserved words of congratulations for the time and labor spent in the preparation of the individual grade numbers. The costumes were made by the mothers of the young ones who participated and added greatly to the excellency of the performance. Miss Mae Patterson, A.T.

Newmarket—At the age of 92, Mrs. Louisa Rae, College St., will quietly celebrate her birthday on Saturday. Five years ago Mrs. Rae lost her sight but she is able to move freely about the house, go upstairs and even make a pot of tea.

Mrs. Rae told the Era and Express yesterday, "I was told that I would go blind and I have no complaints. I make the best of it and after all I had many years with my sight. I have about five radio programs I listen to and always follow the news."

Mrs. Rae lives with her daughter, Minnie, in their own home on College St. which commands a striking view of most of the town. She was born in Richhill and later lived on a farm near Kettleby where her one son, Brock, now farms. She and her daughter came to Newmarket from Kettleby 30 years ago. They both attend the Presbyterian church when it is possible. Mrs. Rae can get out and around, in fact she visited Kettleby cemetery a week ago last Saturday.

Mrs. Rae is an excellent conversationalist and in spite of her blindness, she is well aware of what is going on in the world and community about her. She is always ready with a quick reply in any conversation. We are sure that Newmarket citizens will wish her a happy birthday and many similar returns of that day.

from Commissioner Clark E. Locke, and Invocation. The hymn, Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus, was followed by a Scripture reading by Rev. Fred Brecken, a prayer led by Rev. J. T. You Can Defeat Your Biggest Tax Problem . . .

That is the 8% sales tax. The one the budget missed. The one that hits you hardest. This quotation

" . . . This tax costs the Canadian taxpayers 30 cents for every dollar of processed material" from a Liberal member of Parliament shows what the government is doing to keep taxes high . . . despite the "bribery" reductions in the budget.

So that you may have a sure, adequate income, the Progressive Conservative Party will

- Reduce sales taxes.
- Provide deductions to farmers for members of family who contribute to revenue.
- Reduce income tax rates and increase exemptions.
- End the administrative persecution of farmers by tax collectors.

For your protection the Progressive Conservative Party will take these steps:

PRICES

— Permanent floor price legislation based on these principles:

- A definite formula in the Farm Prices Support Act for arriving at floor prices.
- The formula will allow for variations in production and demand for individual products.
- Floor prices will be announced well in advance of production period.
- The floor price formula will be arrived at in consultation with representatives of producers.

EXPORT MARKETS

Restoration of the Canadian Wheat Board to serve its original purpose as a Marketing Agency for wheat producers . . . and its extension to include the handling of coarse grains.

Inclusion of representatives of farmer's organizations on all Boards dealing with farm matters;

Aggressive and immediate action to recapture lost markets; the development of new markets; to achieve security of export markets through foresighted negotiations.

Dominion marketing legislation based on the principle of democratic producer control.

PRODUCTION

Reclamation and conservation of existing soil resources; development of new producing lands through irrigation; greater accessibility to domestic markets by improved transportation facilities.

Old Boy, New Boy Cut Cake

Aurora—Last Saturday was a red-letter day in the annals of St. Andrew's College. With hundreds of friends, relatives, old boys and special guests on hand to view the proceedings, the college celebrated its 50th anniversary.

Highlighting the day's events were two cricket matches. The first saw the old boys compete with the college Senior XI while in the other match the fathers took on their sons. Both games ended in ties as time ran out.

Following a sumptuous buffet luncheon a special birthday cake was cut by Harry B. Housser, an old boy who attended St. Andrew's from 1899 to 1903. Mr. Housser, and the newest new boy, Donald E. Brown, 10, were each presented with special cups by Headmaster K. G. B. Ketchem. A tea dance completed the day's festivities.

Hobby Club Plans Bus Trip to Cobourg

Sharon—The Hobby Club met at Mrs. E. Long's home, Sharon, May 16. Roll call of exchange of plants and bulbs was exceedingly varied and appreciated.

Mrs. A. Baisdon read a description of the conditions in China and Japan by Mrs. K. Aitken on her continental tour. Mrs. G. Barker gave current events while Mrs. A. Brenair conducted the question box.

Feature of the meeting was the discussion on the bus trip. It was decided to charter a Hollinger bus to Cobourg June 21, leaving Sharon at 9 o'clock calling at the 4th and 5th concessions and Mount Albert corners. Members wishing to go should notify Mrs. John Farr, Mrs. Allan Baisdon, Mrs. L. Pegg and Mrs. Carman Rolling one week before June 14 so the bus may be filled with others wishing to enjoy the trip. Information may be secured from the committee. It is expected a dinner at evening at Cobourg will be included and a tour of sightseeing arranged. The tourist park is on Lake Ontario with all conveniences for picnics, etc., thus it is important to decide soon as 40 members with families soon fill a bus. Mrs. C. Rolling invited the club to her cottage home, Lake Simcoe, for the July meeting on the 18th.

Foe Driven Back Aurora Saved In Sham Battle

Aurora—The town was saved and the enemy made a last ditch stand among the sand dunes 1,000 yards or so west of Ballantrae. Sunday afternoon units of the Canadian Army, Central Command, attacked from their fortified positions just north of Wellington Street on the sixth concession of Whitechurch and roundly defeated the enemy in a four-hour battle, Exercise River Crossing. The project was part of army exercises giving troops experience under near battle conditions.

The attack began with an advance by infantrymen of the Irish Regiment of Canada under cover of the thundering guns of the 20th Field Regiment R.C.A. Advancing steadily for half a mile the infantry were finally forced to dig in and wait until a bridge could be constructed and supporting armored units of the Queen's York Rangers and the 11th Armored Regiment could be brought up.

While members of the 2nd Field Engineer Regiment rapidly constructed a Bailey bridge for the advancing tanks and other vehicles, the 2nd Can. Intelligence Co. questioned local civilians in an attempt to uncover fifth-column activities. As the 2nd Field Ambulance Company evacuated the wounded, members of the 2nd Company Canadian Provost Corps lodged the guarded prisoners of war in a special compound to the rear of the lines and directed the advancing vehicles and troops.

Despite the strafing and dive-bombing of low-flying fighter planes of the 400th Squadron, R.C.A.F., which dropped special flour bombs, the advance went forward unchecked. The spectators, numbers in the thousands, viewed the action from an advantageous position near G.H.Q. Taking no chances, local farmers kept their livestock in their barns and the barn doors shut as the planes zoomed low and close. The air attacks were repeatedly repulsed by the 50th Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment.

Shortly after 5 p.m. the armored support were able to join the infantry. Advancing together for over half a mile under the support of artillery they reached the enemy's position and captured their objective. Major Gen. C. Vokes, C.B., C.B.E., D.S.O., was on hand to view the afternoon's exercise.

church. No committees, boards or any existing organizations of the former body were changed or deleted. The property of the church in all respects was free of encumbrance.

Discussion of the statement was called for in the council and a motion of acceptance was made by Rev. F. Rice, pastor of First Avenue Baptist church, Toronto, and seconded by Rev. Arthur Greer of Weston Baptist church, formerly pastor of the Newmarket church. The council was unanimous in its decision.

A service of recognition followed immediately. The moderator, on behalf of the Toronto Association, extended the official right hand of fellowship to D. J. Stephenson, chairman of the board of deacons, who represented the Newmarket Christian Baptist church.

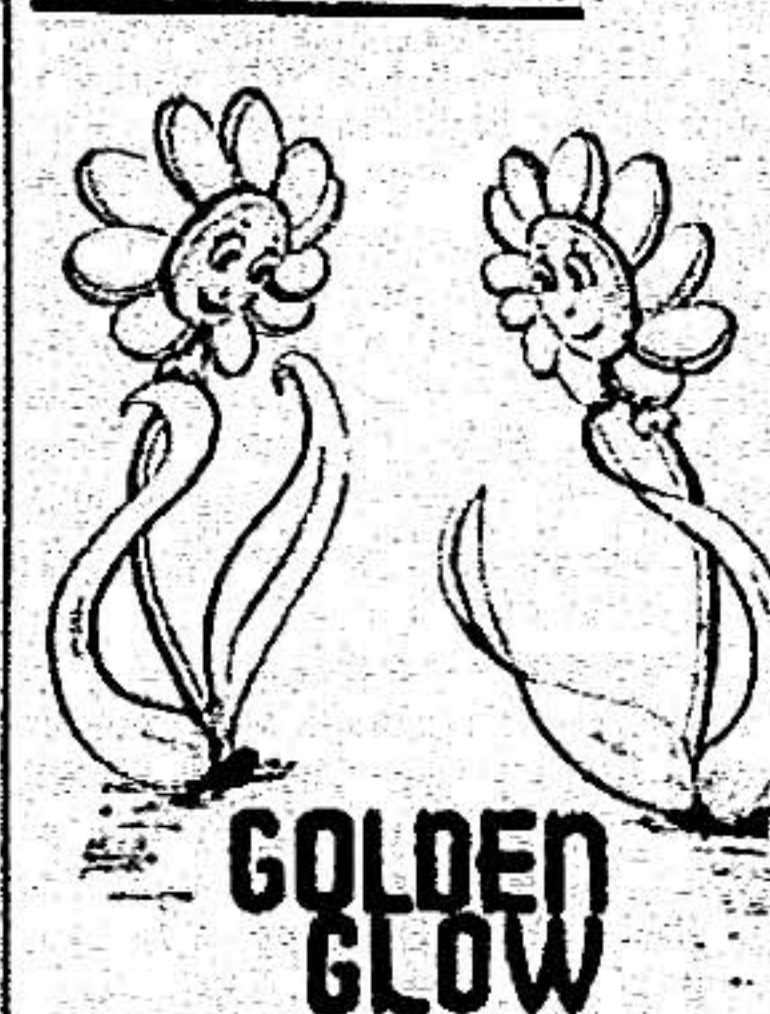

Rev. T. B. McDormand, acting general secretary of the Baptist convention, read the charge to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Breckon were officially welcomed to the membership of the church. Mr. Breckon has ministered for over two years as the interim pastor. Gracious words of appreciation were expressed by Mr. Stephenson in his remarks. Special music was rendered by a full choir and Marion Gibson presented a solo, "The Lord's Prayer."

Rev. M. E. B. Boudreau, president of the Newmarket Ministerial Association, brought greetings to the meeting.

Rev. J. K. Holland of Annette Street Baptist church, Toronto, Moderator of the Toronto Ministerial Association, was the guest speaker of the evening. Benediction was pronounced by Mr. Breckon and the assembly was dismissed and proceeded to the church basement where refreshments were served by the ladies of the church.

KIDD'S GARDEN

"Mistress Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow? With silver bells and cockle shells and 'pretty maids' all in a row." Everywhere you go in town you see lovely gardens—one of which I described for last week's paper—posting it Sunday evening to make sure Mr. Editor received it in good time, Tuesday being May 24. But the mystery of that lost envelope hasn't been solved yet—or if so, I haven't heard of it! Where on earth can it be—a long business envelope, marked "Copy" and addressed to Era and Express? I told about being at the Girl Guides and Brownies Mother and Daughter banquet, the Home and School tea at Mrs. Seldon's, and the visit to that delightful garden of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd on Gorham St.

So if you missed my column last week that will explain why "Golden Glow Says" failed to appear. I see that since my copy was lost Mr. Editor has others' reports of all three so I'll concentrate on the grand afternoon we had in the wonderful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd last Saturday. Newmarket really is flower conscious—and I've seen many lovely gardens here in town but this new garden of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd is going to rival the Butchart gardens both in Victoria, B.C., and in Owen Sound.

Anybody not aware of the beauty they are missing would pass right by the Kidd's garden and never see it at all, for it is approached by a narrow lane-way, a few doors east of the creek on Gorham St. Don't try to take your car in—there is no place there to park. The gardens are on the side of a hill—following the course of the rippling stream which flows along from Bogartown. In fact, I fancy the whole garden is where once was the dear old Gorham's pond, so beloved by us when we were young, summer and winter. It made a grand "swimming-hole" for the boys and young men—and skating there in the winter was very popular. Then the Bogartown Pond dam burst, and the dam that held Gorham St. pond, and well—it's just a memory now. But it took Mr. and Mrs. Kidd to see the possibilities for a garden, and now it is a "beauty spot" in every respect.

The stream is lined with glorious trees—some were there, and some Mr. and Mrs. Kidd have planted—weeping willows and evergreens. One of the first things to greet us last Saturday as we came in from the laneway and turned east into the garden was a magnificent pink flowering crab-tree, just a mass of bloom, and another beauty further on. But when the glory of the tulips burst on you, standing so straight, row upon row, extending away along the curve of the slope from the top right down to the Bogartown Creek, red, mauve, yellow—oh every shade imaginable in a tulip. Why it just made you stand and gasp "Oh, oh!" There must have been thousands of them and all in full bloom in the glorious sunshine of a perfect day, not too hot, nor yet too cool. There were nearly 200 different varieties in all, and whether you viewed them from the top of the hill or looked up from the path along the stream, they were gorgeous. Such a blaze of color you can't expect to see until next May when we sincerely hope Mr. and Mrs. Kidd will again keep "open garden" to Newmarket flower-lovers.

But you must not think that the tulips were the only flowers in bloom in that garden. No indeed. It was a blaze of color from other early flowers as well. Great patches of that—oh what do you call it—that early rocky flower that flowers so profusely and lies close to the soil. The white we used to call "Snow in Summer" but there are several other shades, all so brilliant, especially the golden ones. Then clumps of Leopard's Bane making further brilliant patches. What a name for such a beautiful flower! Then, Dec-bane added its color, a few late pheasant-eye narcissi, forget-me-nots and grape-hyacinths, two kinds of the latter, just solid bloom. But the pansies! Oh, the pansies! I can't begin to tell you how lovely they were! I must not make this too long or Mr. Editor will have to chip some out. You feel miles away from everywhere with the tall trees along the stream, the lovely stream curving round along its banks. Pansies everywhere so you can see all the beautiful specimens. Here a bunch of baby blue heart lilies, here some pale yellow ones—here a lovely flowering quince shrub. How can I begin to tell you of all the wonders of that garden in the limited space of a Golden Glow column? But the last thrill of all that I'll tell about, was when Mrs. Kidd took me to see what I deem a wonderful treasure—a lady-slipper, the lovely wild orchid that has grown so rare in our native swamps. Oh, I do hope he can persuade it to take root permanently. If anybody reading this has never seen the lady-slippers, mosses, plants and huntsman's cups growing and blooming in their natural environment, they will wonder at my delight—truly you never saw anything more beautiful. I must really end up here, but I assure you that when the peonies are in flower it will be another picture.

When the Hon. Paul Martin, federal minister of health, speaks in Newmarket on Tuesday, June 7, it will be the first major political rally in town since the campaign opened. As a matter of fact, it will be the first major rally in the riding since the Liberal nomination day. As election campaigns go, this one has been particularly dull, not at all like the rousing battles of other years.

The large mass meeting of the past seems to have been discarded in favor of smaller, informal meetings in homes. The Liberal candidate, Mr. J. E. "Jack" Smith, has been very active in the riding, attending several of these house meetings in Newmarket in recent weeks, but Mr. Arthur Walwyn, Conservative candidate, has not been in Newmarket to the best of our knowledge since his attendance at the informal opening of Armitage Heights some weeks ago, and a news release on Monday from C.C.F. headquarters is just now announcing that the campaign on behalf of C.C.F. candidate Arch Woods has begun.

How different this is from those good old days as described by those who remember them. At this stage in the campaigns of years ago, the streets would be gay with bunting, there would have been several hot debates from the same platform with attendant fist fights in the audience, there would be no talk but election talk. Everyone had a hand in the election campaigns of the past. There was none of the casualness, the cynicism, the downright disinterestedness that marks the present.

The radio has done much to change the election campaign. It is possible almost any night of the week to tune in on national figures discussing the election issues, and listen from the comfort of an easy chair in your own front room. Why then attend a crowded hall where the seats are hard and the hour late?

And too, there is not the same fierce partisanship. And that is a pity. In the past, it was "my party right or wrong" and damn all opposition. Such an attitude had its faults, but it was better by far than the present day sophistication. We have come around to the point where we accept the proposition that no one party can command all the virtues nor be guilty of all the faults, and we suppose that is so much progress, but if it has cost the nation a public concern with election issues, a concern which brought every voter to the polls to make his choice, then that progress came too high.

Much of the present day attitude stems from a belief that there is something nasty or unpleasant about politics, that it is an aspect of society no decent person would have anything to do with. How unfortunate this attitude should prevail. It shows how far we have strayed from a belief that the government of the country was every man's concern. If the business of politics has become something to be regretted, whose fault is it but those citizens who insisting on the virtue of the title, do nothing to earn it. If politics has become the profession of the shifty, the outcast, the bottom layer of society, then it is no one's fault but our own.

But politics is none of that. Three political workers we have met are citizens with a strong sense of responsibility. They are not content to give lip support to a policy or party. They give their opinions meaning by doing what they can to be sure they will prevail. Anyone can sound off in the living room about what should be done, but the citizen is the one who does his best to see that it is done.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

The Bishop of Toronto conducted a Confirmation service in Christ church, North Point, last Monday evening, according to the files of 25 years ago. Six candidates were confirmed. A brass tablet and a new memorial organ given by Dr. Hunt were dedicated.

It will be another week yet before the new steel bridge on Queen St. will be open for traffic. The current roadway was started on Wednesday afternoon.

The market last Friday was small. Eggs sold from 23 to 25 cents a doz. and butter from 29 to 33 cents a lb. No potatoes were offered for sale.

Mr. E. Cichewicz is here from Vancouver after an absence of eight years. His brother, Will, is also in town from Hamilton.

Rev. Walter Erbe, Philadelphia, spent a few days with his college friend, Rev. P. Graham, and assisted in the services in the Christian church last Sunday.

Mr. Joe Hewitt, who has been on the road for 44 years throughout the United States, has settled at Rochester, N.Y., and is now spending a few days with his brother, E. Hewitt.

A number of people on the 9th of East Gwillimbury, about two miles this side of Mount Albert, had an exciting bear hunt last Tuesday, according to the files of 50 years ago. The animal is believed to have been killed in Gum Swamp and was sighted by a young boy as it ran into the woods. Several men and dogs followed it for 1 1/2 hours before getting the animal and finally killing it. It was a black bear, and weighed about 350 pounds.

Walter Watson is home for vacation. He has just passed his final examination at the College of Pharmacy, Toronto, with honors. He intends going into business at Barrie.

The Editorials:

Disgraceful Condition

The washroom at the Newmarket arena is a disgrace. On Monday night, the smell from the men's room was overpowering. One toilet worked, one did not, in the women's room.

We are informed that the women's room on Friday night, when the arena was crowded with school children for the music festival, was locked. The reason is, as we understand it, that the room was so filthy Friday afternoon that it could not be cleaned in time. Whatever the cause, the children were deprived of the use of the room.

Just whose is the responsibility for the condition of the washrooms in the arena is not an immediate concern. We are concerned that this condition will be cleaned up and steps taken to prevent its recurrence. There is a circus coming to town on Monday when there will be a heavy demand for those washrooms. What sort of condition will they be in then?

We quite appreciate that the arena management has an arduous task to maintain absolutely clean surroundings with the arena in regular use, and apparently, open to those who know how to sneak in though the door is locked. But the fact remains that on Monday night, when we inspected the washrooms, the odor from the one was so strong that it was sickening.

Look At The Record

In an advertisement in this issue of The Era and Express, the C.C.F. states it is the only party free to act on housing, health, social security and other vital issues because the "C.C.F. accepts no financial aid from big business". The C.C.F. has been playing this tune for a good many years despite the evidence of the facts.

The C.C.F. advises that to get action on housing, vote C.C.F. In Newmarket, since the war, over 120 homes have been provided by private enterprise, federal housing corporation and individuals building with government assistance. The old camp ground was converted into a housing sub-division by private enterprise. The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has built 50 low rental homes on Armitage Heights, and the Veterans' Land Act has built eight homes, and provided assistance in the building of close to 20 more.

The C.C.F. advises that to get action on health, vote C.C.F. The Liberal government has provided for expenditures in a period from April, 1949, to March, 1950, of $31,279,900 for health measures. These measures include public health, $5,276,000; professional training, $515,000; public health research, $205,000; mental health, $4,122,000; crippled children, $515,000; cancer control, $3,550,000; venereal disease control, $515,000; T.B. control, $3,177,000; hospital construction, $13,235,000; health survey (Newfoundland), $20,000.

The C.C.F. advises that to get action on social security, vote C.C.F. In this riding, the monthly Family Allowance payment exceeds $190,000. A total of $192,954,610 is paid to Ontario in the form of Old Age and Blind pensions. In 1948, the government contributed over $16 million to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. Employment is the best guarantee of security. The level of employment is at its highest, and Canada's foreign trade, upon which so much of Canada's prosperity depends, has risen to unprecedented heights under Liberal administration.

The C.C.F. promises action but the above is what has been accomplished by the Liberal government, accomplished without the use of arbitrary powers by the state. This is not the record of a government restricted by obligations to "big business" as the C.C.F. says. The C.C.F. promises, and is prepared to use state control to accomplish those promises. The Liberals have achieved everything the C.C.F. promises and have done so under a system of free enterprise.

'Get Out The Vote'

The Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion, celebrating its third birthday on Tuesday of this week, has opened a campaign to "get out the vote". For this it should be congratulated.

The Legion is non-political, but it is part of Legion policy to promote good citizenship and the marking of a ballot is fundamental.

It is most unfortunate that at least half of our citizens do not feel their responsibilities sufficiently to mark their ballot. A fair example of this attitude was evident in our office when a voter said he was not particularly concerned whether his name was or was not on the voters' list. He had never cast his ballot anyway - just wasn't interested in politics.

How completely irresponsible is such an attitude. It is to educate such that the Legion, and for that matter, the Chamber of Commerce which is also conducting a similar campaign, must act. It is unfortunate, however, that there are so many to whom such elementary lessons in democracy as the responsibility of the ballot must be taught.

Newfoundland Victory

The Globe and Mail explains that the Newfoundlanders voted Liberal because of their inexperience with dominion politics. They weren't that inexperienced; they could still sort the facts from the fallacy of the Conservative campaign. They weren't taken in, for example, by Mr. Drew's declaration that neither he nor any other responsible Conservative had ever opposed the Family Allowance bill. We suppose, however, the official apologist for the Conservative party has to say something, no matter how far fetched.

On the part of the Liberals, the Newfoundland victory is accepted as a forecast of things to come on June 27. While such optimism is well founded on the merits of the Liberal presentation, to accept the victory in Newfoundland as in itself an indication of a Liberal national victory is the worse sort of nonsense. Provincial results, and the results of by-elections, give only the vaguest clues to what the whole electorate is thinking.

The greatest influence upon the voters is exercised, not by national policy, but by purely local circumstance. A popular candidate, an efficient local organization, a natural hazard like a heavy rain, a regional issue which may split party loyalties—all these exercise an effect upon the polls and make it impossible to fully forecast.

The Liberal victory in Newfoundland is encouraging. But to permit it to serve as an excuse to relax campaign efforts can easily cost the party the election.

Campaign 'Strategy'

That master strategist of the Conservative party, Mr. Drew, is treating his western audiences to an accurate forecast of the election result. It is clearly impossible, he says, for the Liberals to win a working majority. They will require the support of the C.C.F. to govern, thus committing themselves to courses of action acceptable to the C.C.F.

Goodness gracious. Does Mr. Drew really think that the voters will believe this? Or is Mr. Drew simply diverting his audience from a growing conviction that the Progressive Conservative bandwagon is slowing down. It is a foolish statement. It is an admission that the Progressive Conservatives certainly will not have the majority, quite a change from the optimism with which the party began its campaign.

If Mr. Drew's forecast is indeed correct, the voters would know the answer without his telling them. The Liberal party is the best fitted to form the government. The voters can very easily make sure that it need not rely upon another party by returning it to parliament with an overwhelming majority.

Voters' Lists have been hung in all the sub-divisions these past weeks so that every voter will have the opportunity to check them to see that their name is on. There is no excuse for the voter who complains on election day that his name has been left off the list and his vote lost.

The Music Festival at the arena is the latest of the many projects to raise funds for the artificial ice campaign. The campaign has become a true community project with everyone contributing as best he can. The sponsors of the Music Festival deserve a special vote of thanks for the effort which went into the preparation of the program.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: The members of the Horticultural Society wish me to express their appreciation for the support given by the many local organizations to the Clean Up Week of May 16 to 21. Your paper rendered a real service through its editorials and articles immediately preceding and during that time. It is not probable that any other method could have been as effective.

The calls reported indicate a much stronger response than was anticipated, and the fine manner in which these requests were attended to is a credit to Mr. Johnston. It is quite apparent that those groups that helped publicize the program also saw to it that it was carried out.

Would you please be good enough to favor the Horticultural Society once more, and convey our thanks to all who assisted so effectively in what we hope will become an annual clean-up campaign.

"Yipi-ai-yo kah-yayee-ee," sang Slim Beggins as he came walking into town on Tuesday, tattered and shabby from his annual spring tramp to the western provinces. He was on his way home again to his rose covered piano box shack by the railway tracks.

A country correspondent had phoned that Slim Beggins was coming down the dusty road to Newmarket so I went out to get an exclusive interview and we walked together to his mansion by the railway tracks.

We found the front door battered down and a registered Holstein heifer had taken up residence in his absence. The bovine intruder had not given the mansion the same loving care as the owner. The garden plot was grown with weeds and of course the horrible ravages of spring crochets had robbed it of its two inches of top soil.

We returned the heifer to the classified ad department and installed it in an Era and Express box. Then Slim started to work on his garden with a hoe in one hand and a clipping of the Garden-Graph by Dean Halliday and released by Central Press Canadian in the other. (This is to show that Slim Beggins is one of our many readers.)

"What did you see in the west this spring?" I asked of Slim.

"Well the west was all very nice when I went out there. Calm, peaceful, easy going old west that I always knew. There was a bit of excitement in Alberta oil now and then. I worked for a day helping to cap a gusher but no more than a day, mind you," related Slim.

"Things was all nice in the west though until they announced the election date and then the place got over-run with politicians. So I decided to come back east where they aren't noticed so much. Politicians down east are obscured by the masses, but out there it's so flat you can see 'em comin' for miles. An then most towns has a railway runnin' through the middle of them and these politicians stand on the rear end of trains and everybody has to see them," he said.

"I thought most politicians flew by T.C.A. in these modern days," I said.

"Well, they do some," Slim said, "but the back of a train is still better for makin' speeches from. But one of those politicians wouldn't fly T.C.A. unless they put Piper Cubs with motor cycle engines on their chartered runs. So T.C.A. had to charter a special Cub with an Ariel Four Square in it. What you don't see around election time!" mused Slim.

"Well you must have a store of knowledge from your western trip this spring," I said.

"Oh yes, I've got lots of stores of it. But there's nothing like settling down again in Newmarket for the nice quiet life in a small town. Like a small town. Everybody gets along so well."

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

Forty-five minutes a day for the man to care for 500 hogs. A swine feeder in the U.S.A. gives that as his time. Allow seven minutes to feed off a hog with a hand. The hog of feed and this would average 1000 lbs. of feed per hog per 500 hogs. Bedding would have to be purchased that would cost at least per pig—1000 lbs. The manure would be around one to one and a half tons per day. That would mean the farmer would have to make and move two machines, and on 30 minutes.

The feed would have to be dumped into a bin. There would have to be 50 men, ten men in a pen. The man of a helper to help unload feed and straw down stairs would have to be figured. The manure would have to be hauled away from the feeding. It was not very long a man pig would be taking care of them would appear in pig pen to fighting.

Streamline the swine industry with efficiency. The manure time is wasted around the pig pen. The average litter of pigs in Canada is seven pigs. This would mean that 7000 would have to be kept in the lot but the lot has no pen. How to keep the boss sow from getting too fat?

I take a horse and get that sow pig the same of feed. But what if you feed this would be some fun. A businessman made the same one time that he would put the best equipment for feed and bedding and the best of the investment and change everything. You would have what they made. There were no signs.

Some time ago one of the parking places started to raise hogs. It was stayed in the neighborhood. A short time. The farmers never heard of this parking place until they were told. In every business, there are men investing money. Why not swine industry? There is plenty to be made.

There are two classes of people buying farms. One class buys a farm for a place to live and raise a family. The other class buys a farm for a place to raise a family. The other class buys a farm for a place to raise a family.

What we need is a demonstration farm in each county, run with complete that the average farmer can afford. It is only a waste of time to tell the average farmer that it is only takes less than one minute to raise a pig of ten pigs for 24 hours, 45 minutes for 500, and 10 minutes for 1000.

We need more efficiency on the farms. We need a lot better on many farms, but farm stock raising, be run on the assembly line principle. Each hog, sow, these has its own personality. Good housekeeping is in showing each animal. The saying is that to be able to train an animal, you must know more than the animal. With a sow, when she freshens, herudder is swollen and it is not very easy to make an outflow. Before she freshens her under should be rubbed and handled. When you see a milk her, she is not afraid of you.

A sow before she freshens should be handled so that when she is in pain you can get her. To have your sow quiet at farrowing time saves you many late pigs. If you sow this her young, that is the fault of the breeder. She has not been fed the right ration. Sometimes it is a excitement that causes the sow to eat her young.

The old saying is to kick a pig over every day they come near you because they are either coming away from trouble or going into trouble or mischief. Your sow is one of your best money makers on the farm and should be fed and taken care of. Look behind her ears for lice. Wash off her udder before she farrows. Cheers.

Letters to the Editor

(In last week's issue of The Era and Express, there was an editorial criticizing the township of Whitechurch's attitude towards participation in the formation of a health unit for the north end of the county. In the same issue, there appeared a letter signed by Ross Armitage, Whitechurch, criticizing the reeve's attitude towards debenturing for road costs. In two letters printed below, Reeve Logan replies to the criticism—editor.

The Editor: In connection with the editorial on the proposed health unit: It is not so much the difference in cost between the figure of $600 and $2,300 as it is in who has the authority of control of such a unit. True, we are asked to pay on our equalized assessment rather than a per capita basis on which all costs of such a unit are based.

It is true that the York County Children's Aid is doing a good work but in the last few years its costs have increased enormously. What assurance have we that a health unit's costs will not increase to a figure far in excess to $2,300 for our portion in the next few years? To say that it is similar to a township school area or a barn raising bee is far removed from the fact as the unit takes all its directions from the provincial government, which pays 50 percent of cost. The warden of the county may sit as an ex-officio member of the board (meaning he has no vote on policy).

The unit, once formed, will be further removed from the ratepayers than a township school area board in which three out of five members come up for re-election every year by the people, who pay the bill and must account for their stewardship.

In my opinion the person who pays for such social services should have the right to criticize policy, including weekly editors. Far be it from me to terminate that privilege.

Ed Logan,
Reeve of Whitechurch.

The Editor: After reading the letter signed by Mr. Ross Armitage in last week's issue, I feel for the interest of the ratepayers of Whitechurch township that it is my duty to reply.

Mr. Legge's statement "that $40,000 to $50,000 per year was required to maintain our roads" is, I would say, incorrect. I thought Mr. Legge had a better knowledge of how this money was spent.

I cannot give to the ratepayers this year's figures as the year is only half complete.

The total road budget for 1948 was $45,000 and the following expenditures had to be paid from this sum: truck for road superintendent, erection of shed and material, all expenses in regard to snow plowing, erection and removal of all snow fence, sanding of roads, weed spraying, road brushing and ditching, signs and guide railings, culverts and cost of installing, road superintendent's salary, insurance on roads, shed and machinery, payment on road maintainer, $10,000, and the balance used for dust layer and oil, road grading, resurfacing and graveling.

Mr. Armitage requests that the accurate cost of hard surfacing a mile of road be published. The estimate cost of a "double mulch treatment" would be approximately $7,000 to $8,000 per mile, not taking into consideration the preparation of road prior to the application.

As for debenturing for hard top surface, I still maintain my statement, "As long as I'm reeve of Whitechurch, I will never favor debentures", and plunge the township and future councils into debt, while I serve the municipality. In a two-day discussion at county council in January on debenturing for road construction the motion was lost. What is good business for the county is good business for the township.

My policy has always been "Do what we can each year for the township and pay for it".

Ed Logan,
Reeve of Whitechurch.

Misses Grace and Marguerite Lockie, who have returned home from Bermuda, spent last week visiting friends in St. Mary's and Detroit.

Mr. Charles Immerson of the famous Eric Winston orchestra of B.B.C., London, visited at the home of Mrs. Annie B. Lockie en route from Bermuda to England.

This is a picture of the first high school building erected on the present school property at the corner of Pearson and Prospect Sts. It is not known whether there was a high school before it or not but from information in the registry office, the property deed was first connected with school trustees on January 2, 1877. The two names in the registry book are George Williams and Jos. Williams, school trustees. In a previous issue of The Era and Express (Thursday, April 21, 1949), there is an old view on the front page taken from the spire of the Christian church looking towards Reesor's mill and this same building can be seen in the distance. This picture was dated 1880. The above picture is captioned Newmarket Old High School. It is believed that it was destroyed by fire. The second building was partially burned and rebuilt as the present building. This is one of a series of old pictures loaned to The Era and Express by J. Norman Wright.

Text Of Address Sent Francis Gore By Yonge Friends

While doing research for her series on the life of Job Hughes, the concluding article of which appeared last week, Ethel Willson Trehella found a copy of a Yonge Street Friends address to Francis Gore, lieutenant governor, sent to him during the period of Job Hughes' ministry.

As taken from Gazette of October 4, 1806:

"On Tuesday, the 30th of September, 1806, the following address from the Quakers residing on Yonge Street was presented to His Excellency, the Lieutenant Governor—

"The Society of the people called Quakers, to Francis Gore, Governor of Upper Canada, sendeth greeting. Notwithstanding we are a people who hold forth to the world a principle which in many respects differs from the greater part of mankind, yet we believe in our reasonable duty as saith the Apostle, 'Submit yourselves unto every ordinance of men for the Lord's sake, whether it be the King as supreme, or unto governors as unto them that are sent by Him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well'; in this we hope to be his humble and peaceful subjects. Although we cannot, for conscience sake join with many of our fellow mortals in complimentary customs of man, neither in taking up the sword to shed human blood, for the Scripture saith that 'it is righteousness that exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people', we feel concerned for the welfare and the prosperity of the Province. Hoping thy administration may be such as to be a terror to the evil minded and a pleasure to them that do well, then will thy Province flourish and prosper under thy direction, which is the earnest desire and prayer of thy sincere friends."

Read and approved in Yonge Street Monthly Meeting of Friends, 18th, ninth month, 1806.

"To this the Governor made answer—I return you my thanks for your dutiful address and for your good wishes for my welfare and prosperity of this Province. I have no doubt of your proving peaceful and good subjects to His Majesty as well as industrious and respectable members of society. I shall at all times be happy to afford to such persons my countenance and support."

Signed—Francis Gore, Lieutenant Governor, Government House, York, Upper Canada, 30 September, 1806."

Battle Tried 48th To Parade June 19 At Vets Pilgrimage

The 48th Highlanders pipe band will be duty band of the day on June 19th when the veterans make their annual pilgrimage to the cenotaph. Guest band will be the Toronto Scottish. The 48th, largest pipe band in the British Empire, will be on parade in full dress review order (scarlet, busbies, kilts and spats), accompanied by the C.O., Col. M. E. George.

The history of the 48th Highlanders regiment starts in 1891 when a group of men of Scots ancestry gathered in the city of Toronto. A provisional roll was started and a score of well-known Torontonians signed. On July 3, 1891, Capt. John Irvine Davidson was offered the command of the regiment. During these first days, the unit, nameless, held its first parade in the old Bailey Hall on Huron St., Toronto. On August 11, the Davidson tartan was chosen in honor of the first commander, and the motto, Dileas Gu Brath (Faithful Forever), and the regimental crest of a falcon's head. The Queen's Highlanders was the chosen name but the Militia Department would not grant this and the number 48 with the word Highlanders was adopted.

In the following ten years, the regiment made a name for itself in military competitions abroad and at home. The bayonet fighting championship of the British Army was won and at various times, most of the coveted awards offered to Canadian military marksmen were won by members of the regiment.

A small group of 23 from the regiment created a proud record in the South African War at the turn of the century. So the regiment came to the last days of peace before the First Great War. For 23 years it had been groomed for such a day as was then to come. On August 7, 1914, drill and preparation was started and mobilization orders were received on August 15. On October 1 they sailed for overseas with the expeditionary force designation 15th Bn., 48th Highlanders, C.E.F. The landing in France was February 15, 1915, and from then on, from Ypres in 1915-17, there were 21 battle honors with such well remembered names as Somme, Vimy, St. Julien (it was here that the enemy first used gas. Gas was first used against the 48th between April 22 and 26 and 600 Highlanders lost their lives), Hill 70, Passchendaele, Hindenburg Line and Pursuit to Mons. The 48th marched into Germany December 15, 1918, and "walked the Rhine" until January 12, 1919.

Back in Canada after the war there was a strong feeling against things military but a few years later, in 1926, some of the officers and men gathered in St. Andrew's Institute. The regiment grew again until in 1932 it could parade well over 1,000 men, four times its present strength.

In September, 1939, it was again called to active service and was one of the three of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade of the First Canadian Division and the first to be called out from non-permanent active militia. Overseas, the 48th landed in France just before Dunkirk and returned in a short time to England for a long period of training before the Sicilian and Italian campaigns. In Italy, over a period of 18 months in toughest fighting, they went from Reggio de Calabria to and beyond Ravenna in North Italy. Many will remember the bloody battles around Campobasso, Torrella, Sangro River, Moro River, San Leonardo cemetery hill, Tannasio, Ortona, Liri River and Portocovo.

On March 13, 1945, the Regiment was landed in Marselles in south France and began the long drive to Holland. For the second time in a generation, the cease fire was heard. After five long years of bitter fighting, the regiment marched victoriously home—Dileas Gu Brath.

Although this is the only mechanical method, man has flown faster than the other known fliers—the ancient flying reptiles, birds, bats and insects.

IT'S A
Woman's World
By CAROLINE E. ION

Each successive trip through the countryside makes us more aware of the pastoral beauties of the central section of Ontario. Preferring the winding back roads, along the concession lines to the smooth, speed of the super King's highways, we invariably take the long way home—and love it. May 24 found us exploring the route to Hamilton via Nobleton, Bolton, Georgetown and Guelph to the "Ambitious City". The happy combination of fine agricultural land, well kept farms, the windings of small streams, willow-bordered and occasional water falls made it a trip of unusual beauty. In the hills north of Kleinburg we came upon a string of horses with their riders fancily dressed in "western cowboy" style. Probably from a near-by "dude" ranch, they presented a pleasant picture as they came in view around the bend of the road.

The country was aglow with lilac and honeysuckle in full bloom. The blue of the sky was intensified by white billowings of fluffy clouds and over all was the freshness that spells spring. While in Guelph we "took in" the buildings of the Ontario Agricultural College and were duly impressed by the attractively landscaped grounds. The green houses were a real treat with lemon and fig trees in the tropical room in fruit. The azalea and rhododendron provided a blaze of color and the collection of cacti, succulents and seedling, many with their weird, unusual flowers in bloom, drew some envious glances from some of us who have as yet never got one of those latter plants to bloom. Still we enjoyed nature out-of-doors best and felt that the unlimited variations of shade and hue in the green foliage surpassed any artist's interpretations.

It's a woman's world . . . or so the caption reads, but, it won't be on the management committee for artificial ice unless all the women's organizations in town let our council know that they feel one of their sex should be on the committee.
Rumors have it that a seven "man" board is to be appointed shortly. Surely a woman's point of view is necessary in the planning of recreational facilities for girls as well as the boys of the town. One visiting lady was heard to remark, "Why stop at one, or can one Newmarket woman lead six men?"
The Ladies' Auxiliary, various church groups, the Women's Institute, the Home and School Association, the Business and Professional Women's Club and many other women's organizations have contributed financially to the artificial ice fund.
Should they not be represented on the board?

Just a short time ago we called attention to the clean, sanitary facilities available at the Memorial Arena, but things have changed and decidedly for the worse. On a visit there last Friday we were appalled at their present condition. An offense to the senses, they defy description. The circus is coming to town shortly and children will be crowding in the arena. Are these conditions to be allowed to exist? Careless disregard for public property must stop, but also proper, regular cleaning attention must be given to these washrooms. As parents, we teach cleanliness, as taxpayers we pay for such services. Please, please let's not concern ourselves with blaming this one and that but rather let it not happen again. Although it is hard to believe, there must be someone who did not hear that Newmarket has a "Clean-Up Week".

Remember the quaint, realistic waddling of the little, yellow ducks; the woodsman with his mighty axe who felled the Big Bad Wolf; the excitement of the first concert for many youngsters—there are so many pleasant memories of the spring festival which was held on Friday evening. Perhaps the most striking reflection of the entire show is the feeling of co-operation that existed. Everyone had a certain job to do and saw that it was finished. Hours of practice and careful direction in some rather wonderful choral work. Perhaps the part that the teachers played can be best shown by the retelling of one small incident. One teacher spent her entire May 24 holiday embroidering the veil for the "bride" in the number,
"The Wedding of the Painted Doll". You can see it isn't only Princess Elizabeth who can have a hand-embroidered veil.
Behind the scenes, little boys worried that their lipstick might be smeared and make open-mouthed faces for the application of this "glamor stuff". Kindergarten children hastily sought reassurance that the wolf was not real and then with characteristic childish reasoning wondered how he could get up and walk off the stage since he had been killed. Hours of "rehearsal fright" linked teachers and mothers together in a concern that the costumes would last at least until "certain time", and with the success of each number assured everyone was happy that they had taken the extra trouble to make cellophane wings for the humming birds or had dipped the "feathers" of the owls' costumes in black India ink for greater realism. Everyone loves a band and the selections played by the Citizens' Band were appreciated by all.

Young
Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Jerry, three-years-old, an outdoor protégé, was running the streets wildly and his mother ragged until he was provided a few square feet of his own, out-of-doors.

As a baby, Jerry spent most of his life sleeping outside in his carriage. Then, as Jerry began to notice things about him, he was still happiest in his carriage — but demanded to be wheeled about in it during his waking hours. It was at that period in Jerry's young life that his mother took time out from household duties to wheel Jerry around town every afternoon, weather permitting. That was the simplest way to keep peace and quiet. Weather not permitting, there was no peace or quiet.

Soon after Jerry was a year old, he was running about on his own and began leading his mother a merry chase all over town. He wasn't content indoors—no matter what the weather.

For two years, mother spent most of her mornings and afternoons trailing Jerry in his merry walking adventures, which lasted longer and became more strenuous day by day. When Jerry was three years, by the time he was content to rest, his mother was exhausted and in no condition, either mentally or physically, for the society of her own home.

Something had to be done.
Jerry would have to have a safe place in which to play, leaving mother free for household duties that can't be accomplished when the mistress is running the streets. Using a roll of snow fence, a few square feet of land was fenced off for Jerry's playground. It was a pleasant surprise to everyone for Jerry to accept confinement in such small quarters when he had been accustomed to no limits. As a matter of fact, Jerry is an outdoor little man, but how much or how little of the out-of-doors is not bothering him. He's happy and proud of the little portion of out-of-doors that he has for his own. He welcomes others into his territory but is content to play alone, too. It's like a man and the home he's proud of — it's his castle.

Weekly Garden-Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Canadian

Simple as it may seem, there is a right and wrong way to pick raspberries. The method is important because correct picking has much to do with the berries holding their flavor and firmness.

Right and wrong raspberry picking is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The correct way to pick a red raspberry is to grasp the berry lightly between thumb and fingers, as illustrated. Then pull the berry from the "core" with steady, even pressure.

When just thumb and one finger is used, as illustrated, the berry is apt to become bruised and then deteriorate quickly.

Remember, too, that raspberries picked early in the day remain cooler and keep longer than those picked later. As the heat of the day increases berries become softer and the skin is more easily punctured.

Rhizopus rot, the principal cause of "whiskers" on raspberries, does not readily penetrate unbroken skin but easily infects fruit with broken outer covering.

Allow raspberries wet with rain, dew or fog to dry on the bush before picking.

To pick strawberries, pinch off stem between thumb and forefinger, leaving part of stem attached to berry. Bruising will result if the berry is pulled from the stem.

York Jersey Show Again A Success

The York County Jersey Show, held in conjunction with Richmond Hill's Centennial Fair on May 24, was again a fine success with a hundred head of high quality Jerseys on display before a large ringside. The awards were made by John W. Pawley, manager of Caledon Farms, Caledon. While the bull classes were somewhat light, the female classes brought out very strong competition. The largest entries were in the junior yearling and senior heifer calf classes with 19 and 16 entries respectively.

Don Head Farms' 11-year-old bull, Rajah of Oaklands, was made senior and grand champion and the junior champion ribbon went to Brampton World Beaton, All Bagg and Sons' senior yearling bull. In the female championships, J. A. Northey of Tudorville won the senior and grand on his aged imported cow, Brampton White Hope, and Don Head took both reserves on Don Head, Basil's Hubertine. All Bagg's senior yearling heifer, Edgely, Pine Pansy won the junior championship.

In the junior showmanship competition, Marlene Holmes of R. R. 1, Tudorville, won first for those under 12 and her big brother, Beverly, won the class for those 12 to 20, followed closely by Grace Hoare of Aurora, R. R. 2.

The following is a list of the exhibitors: Alfred Bagg and Sons, Edgely, Fred Bagg and Sons, Unionville; Jas. Bagg and Sons, Edgely; Don Head Farms, Richmond Hill; C. J. Fox, R. R. 1, York Mills; C. A. Northey, R. R. 1, Tudorville; Mrs. Alice Hawkes Robinson, R. R. 2, Newmarket; Hugh Sheardown, Schomberg; St. Michael's College Farm, Aurora; Vaughan Acres, Ltd. (W. J. Lawson), Markham, R. R. 2.

Whitchurch S.S. Hold 69th Convention

Bethesda — The 69th annual convention of Whitchurch township Sunday-schools was held May 25 at Bethesda Union church. The three sessions were well attended by delegates and Sunday-school workers of the township. Theme of convention was "Launch out" and was specially stressed by an address by Ewart Silver, Unionville, and by all speakers.

Mr. Silver reminded the superintendent of Sunday-school and teachers to always have a good agenda prepared before the Sunday-school hour, to start on time, plenty of hymn singing, use as many pupils as possible in exercises. "Send forth in world a credit to your Sunday school," he urged.

Clarence Dozier, president, said that in Whitchurch twp. there are 13 schools of which less than 1,000 enrolled out of population of 3,250. Visitation was also stressed as a means of better attendance. Each worker should question himself concerning attendance, he said.

In the afternoon, Rev. F. Hason and wife were speakers on Better Sunday-school organization and Teaching Methods. He said that world's greatest business is the Sunday-school, it supplies 97 percent of the ministers. To have a good Sunday-school is to have it well organized. "Have honest business officers, have receipts to show and pay promptly," he said. "Get to class early each Sunday and have a visit with pupils. A Sunday school without a cradle roll is a failure."

Mrs. Hason's remarks were for the lower classes and offered many sound suggestions for the teaching methods. Garfield Brown sang two heart-searching solos. A round-table conference was conducted by Rev. E. A. Currie, Victoria Square, whose remarks will not soon be forgotten. "Have a delightful and pleasant manner," he urged. "Be efficient and helpful by putting one's self in lesson. Let God be seen through you. Love of God is greater far than tongue can tell. Keep the machinery of the Sunday-school well oiled. Other qualifications are efficiency, reverence, have a good approach and appearance, have love in heart and power of discipline. Everyone can be useful to God."

Jenvey To Speak At Maple Field Day

Plans just announced by the directors of the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association for their annual field day on Tuesday, June 14, provide for the address of the day by Byron Jenvey of Ingersoll on the subject of "Planned Breeding." Mr. Jenvey, a former fieldman of the Holstein Friesian Association of Canada, is an outstanding authority on genetics or principles of breeding. His advice is sought by several of Canada's prominent breeders in planning the blood lines to be used in their breeding program.

Last year a barn to house 17 bulls was completed just before the field day and a second barn the same size is now well under way to be completed about mid-summer. The batteries of the three breeds of bulls will be on display including the popular Montvic Rag Apple Paragon, sire of a world's record heifer, recently purchased by the Maple Cattle Breeders from Graymar Farms (Mrs. E. J. Meagher), Oakville, at a price well up in the four figures. Dr. J. T. Doyle, the recently appointed chief technician, will have an exhibit of technical equipment in the laboratory and members will have an opportunity to see how their accounts are handled in the office by treasurer Andrew Snider and his staff.

A large tent will be erected and equipped with seats for the afternoon program where the guest speaker will give his illustrated address. It will be recalled that Mr. Jenvey spoke at the field day a few years ago and there have been so many requests to have the lecture repeated, the directors persuaded the speaker to withdraw from retirement to come to Maple again. The program will commence at 2 p.m. D.S.T.

Over 600 attended last year at Exhibition time and with the change to June a larger attendance is expected. President Russell Rowntree and secretary manager, G. W. Keffer, with their executive, are providing every convenience and facility for a large crowd including a refreshment booth where lunches will be available for those coming from a distance. This artificial breeding unit, the largest in Canada, now serving the counties of Dufferin, Halton, Peel, Simcoe, York, Ontario, Victoria and Peterboro with Ayrshires, Jerseys and Holsteins is regarded as a model unit and has had visitors from most of the provinces, several of the states, Europe and Asia.

York Juniors' Picnic, Dance at Musselman's

At a recent meeting of the York County Junior Farmers' directors, it was decided to hold their annual picnic and dance as usual at Musselman's Lake on June 10 with a program of softball and sports in the afternoon and a mammoth dance in the evening where the "Merrymakers" will provide music for round and square dancing.

The guys and gals from the various Junior Farmer Clubs hold a softball tournament for mixed teams commencing at 1.30 in the afternoon. At lunch time each of the clubs makes up its own picnic parties with hot or cold drinks being provided.

How many things made of aluminum can you see on a street corner?

Unless you look at the pictures on the right, you'll hardly believe there can be so many.

Yet this is only a few of them.

For aluminum has so many advantages that you may see hundreds of other things made of it — on the streets, in store windows, almost anywhere you look.

This is because aluminum is so very light, and strong, does not rust, and has lots of other special features.

Today more than 1000 Canadian companies are making aluminum into so many kinds of useful and beautiful articles that no one can keep track of them all.

Why is this so? Because so many people all over the world want things made of aluminum we have been able to make more and more.

Because we have been able to make more, we have been able, over the last ten years, to reduce the price of aluminum ingot by 25%.

What's Doing In Lacrosse Circles

Canadian Capers: Lacrosse will shortly be underway in North York and once again Maple, defending intermediate B O.L.A. champions, Woodbridge, senior A group finalists and Newmarket, will be in action. Bradford, the hotbed of Canada's national game for half a century, will return to the game with an entry headed by Ernie James, "Mutt" Collins and all the rest of the lads. Harold Gwyn, last year with Newmarket, has headed up to Celerytown too. Alliston, Beeton and perhaps Camp Borden Flyers, who are operating in a separate group, will likely supply Bradford with extra players. Groupings find Woodbridge shifted to another group, which includes Orangeville and North Peel from last year's grouping along with Fergus and Norval. The latter entry is headed by Ilev. Leonard Self who, besides playing, has the entire district behind him in his drive for clean sport. Joe Schertel, Jim Enio, Detroit Red Wings, are some of the lads known in these parts with Norval.

Oshweken Indians, who were opponents of the North York teams last year, along with Hespeler, are grouped with Port Jover, Dundas and Brantford. Nine other teams are left and it has not been decided whether they will play as one group with a single schedule or in two groups with a double schedule or perhaps an interlocking schedule. Huntsville, Midland, Bradford, Brooklin, Toronto Maitlands, Port Hope, Maple, Toronto and Newmarket comprise the entry. Another team or two may yet be available before the deadline of press time.

It is interesting to see Toronto Maitlands in action again, district lacrosse fans of yesteryear will remember the orange and black clad boys from Cottingham Sq. (North Toronto subway), who provided competition against Aurora, Bradford and Newmarket in all series and also were a power in senior lacrosse. Maitlands produced some of the great players of the game like Lionel Conacher (once again seeking political honors), Duffy Braden, Bun Gallagher, Buck Johnston, Suds Sutherlands and many more. Kid Harman, who ranks with the best ever produced in these parts, played several seasons with Maitlands, as did the late "Pete" Macell, and Oliver Whitmore, Jack Egin, "Spot" Leppard and Bill Epworth are others who had brief whirls with Maitlands if we remember correctly.

Memorial Camp Opens June 28

The North York Memorial camp will have the boys' camp from June 28 to July 8 this summer. Application forms may be obtained from Howard Hugo, John McIvor, Harry Nellis or from A. C. Lord, manager of the Bank of Toronto.

The camp is government inspected and approved by the department of education. Grants to this camp have been given by Davis Leather Co., the Office Specialty Mfg. Co., the Lions Club, other sources and private individuals for sending more than 175 boys and girls from Newmarket alone in the past two years for less than 60 cents a day. The majority of children have gone free of charge with transportation provided.

Girls' camp dates are: Juniors and intermediates, July 8 to July 30; seniors Aug. 2 to 29; Junior Farmers are from Aug. 30 to Sept. 6. North York Memorial camp is non-denominational. Any boy or girl in the age groups is eligible to receive a grant of at least $6 and free transportation making the net cost 60 cents per day. As soon as registration forms for the girls' camps arrive they may be obtained from Doris Proctor or Helen Epworth at the town clerk's office.

Lake Simcoe League

Business in the Lake Simcoe loop is starting to get in the groove. Pine Orchard is showing a lot of early season scrap. They gave the defending champs, Mount Albert, some anxious moments last Thursday and right in the champs' own ball yard, the teams fighting down to the wire to a 9 all no decision. Mount Albert rustled home five runs in the early frames. Pine Orchard helped along by outfield miscues, waged a comeback, stole the lead, with three in the sixth and six in the seventh. The Mounties made it turn about when they came up clicking for four runs and tying it up. It was Ted Tidman and "Red" Mitchell on the pitching line. Doug Ross' triple with three mates on was the solid sock.

Zephyr in the northern section came up with a pleasing display in their opening set-to. They victimized Dot Menar's Willow Beachers 6-1. Ron Kester gave his pitching a shot in the arm with a solid double that cashed in two. Zephyr wrapped it up with four in the sixth. The Beachers cut out the fooling loaded the sacks in their final turn but lacked the necessary power to bring in the counters. Cec. McNeill was assessed with the loss.

Woe is us. Coming up without the services of their number one southpaw, Don Glover, and minus short stopper Doug. Eves, Hope found Bob Pollock and his Keswick mates a bit tough. They came away on the short end of a 15-3 trimming. Lon Ganton and Cliff Ward served up the offerings for Hope, Ross Eves doing the receiving. Claude "Publicity" Pollock, Mel. Todd, Royden Connell and Bob Pollock chipped in with 11 of the Keswick tallies. Mel Todd homering for his share. Harold Smith was in form to go the route, whiffing six and allowing but six safeties. Ken. Hodgins kept the back-stopping duties in hand.

Willow Beach did an about face when Brownhill pulled in Friday evening, the Beachers salting it away with some timely slugging for 11 runs. Cec. McNeill meanwhile kept the Hillers in the palm of his hand setting them down with a single tally. Duff Sedore was again the victim of some poor fielding support.

Queensville is in trouble. They can't get a win at home. Vandorf hung a second set-back on them Monday, 13-5. Doug Beckett dropped his bowling shoes in favor of softball duds to provide the bright light for Queensville. Doug poled out a homer with three pals on the decks for four of their five. Whim and Walt Pattenden led the Vandorf assault on Queensville's tossers, Bob English and Geo. Evans. Both had triples. Jack Perry turned in a fine game at short for the losers. First sacker

Band selections by the Newmarket Citizens Band conducted by William Greig were enjoyed by the large number in attendance. Joe Brammer with the firemen were on duty to see that there was no congestion in the corridors. The public school boys who acted as stage hands, the town men with their willing services and last but not least, Les Beazer who arranged the stage details, microphones and managed the night's presentation, showed wonderful co-operation and added to the success of the festival.

"Cab" Preston gave the fans a chuckle with a try at climbing telephone poles on the way after a foul skyer.

Zephyr came up with win No. Two Tuesday evening. They turned back Ivan Eves and his Sharon contingent 11-9 but had their hands full doing it. It was a nip and tuck battle, Zephyr counting in all but the final chapter while Sharon kept pace with a pair of heavy scoring frames.
